Cadillac Cuts Through Big Pole And Is Ditched With Little Damage Done

Eight people came near death Sunday morning when automobile No. 28, driven by Frank Kanae, skidded on King street while making a slight turn. Going at a fast clip, the car could not be controlled and went headlong through a telephone pole, smashing the right front light and battering the body of the machine to shapeless metal.

Continuing, the machine landed in

Ah, in's cane field in Palama, and wound up on its side. The left running board was smashed to pieces and the left front spring bent in.

By some good fortune there was no serious injury to anyone in the car. Two slight bruises are reported to have been all the damages received by the passengers.

The damages to the car will cost in the neighborhood of $200 for repairs. The machine is a Cadillac touring car.

Those riding in the car besides the driver, Frank Kanae, were Peter Kanae, George Swift, Mike Hanapi, Charles Opunui and three others.

The car is now at Schuman's garage undergoing repairs. The car is owned by Frank New, and has a record as a Jonah. On two other occasions it has been mixed up in dangerous accidents, but has also maintained a reputation for doing no one any great harm.

Fort Shafter Notes

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence)

FORT SHAFTER, Oct. 3.—As soon as Field Company E, Signal Corps, completes its pistol target practice, the Machine Gun Company, 2nd Infantry, will go on the range for its annual target practice. Problems of many kinds will be worked out, and it is contemplated to fire one problem at a range of 1500 yards. Due to the fact that the machine gun is a much talked of military weapon of the present day, this target practice will be one of interest to all at the fort. Capt. J. E. Bell, assisted by 2nd Lieut. R. G. Calder, will conduct the firing.

A very successful birthday party was given by Commissary Sergeant Lee Cohen and 1st Sgt. Orin H. Rigley (both of the 2nd Infantry) at the latter's quarters in the cantonment on the evening of September 29th, it being Sgt. Cohen's thirty-ninth birthday and Sgt. Rigley's thirty-fifth. A large crowd of friends gathered to enjoy what was one of the most pleasant evenings ever spent at Fort Shafter. A delicious Dutch lunch was served during the evening. Music was furnished by Duke Miller's Hawaiian string orchestra and dancing continued until the wee small hours of the morning.

The old soldiers' corner in the after part of the bungalow was in use the larger part of the evening, and Tommy Marlowe received the highest honors for the best old soldier story teller. Appropriate refreshments were served for the story tellers. For the ladies and those desiring beverage other than the old soldiers' refreshments, a delicious fruit punch was served. The odd and beautiful decorations furnished a pleasing effect to the rooms of the bungalow. Cards of witty sayings and instructions to old soldiers were displayed among the decorations.

The following invitation was received by the guests:

"Hear ye! Hear ye! Hear ye! Rigley and Cohen, who intend celebrating the seventy-fourth anniversary of their arrival on this mundane sphere on the evening of the twenty-ninth of September, 1915, at Rigley's Gothic Bungalow, request the honor of your presence, to help them lay up the sides, will the fatted calf, and incidentally condole with them. Kindly bring your appetites and omit flowers."

Those present were Com. Sgt. and Mrs. Cohen, 1st Sgt. and Mrs. Rigley, 1st Sgt. and Mrs. Whitaker, Mr. and Mrs. Marlowe, Master Sig. Elec. and Mrs. McAniff, Sgt. and Mrs. Martin, Sgt. and Mrs. Britfield, Col. and Mrs. Ferguson, Ord. Sgt. and Mrs. Dysart, Rec. Q. M. Sgt. and Mrs. Ely, Sgt. and Mrs. Burns, Sgt. and Mrs. Kellond, Color Sgt. and Mrs. Clarkson, Color Sgt. Stutzman, Sgt. and Mrs. O'Keefe, Sgt. and Mrs. Peoples, Miss Norma Peoples, Sgt. Rossen.

The noncommissioned officers bridge club held its bi-monthly card party at the quarters of Regt. Qm. Sgt. Ely in the cantonment on Friday evening, and three tables were played. Ord. Sgt. Dysart and Mrs. Cohen won the prizes for the evening as they had the highest scores, while 1st Sgt. Rigley and Mrs. Brightfield won the consolation prizes. Delicious refreshments were served during the evening, and all present declared Sgt. and Mrs. Ely delightful entertainers. Those present were Sgt. and Mrs. Ely, Sgt. and Mrs. Whitaker, Sgt. and Mrs. Cohen, Sgt. and Mrs. Burns, Sgt. and Mrs. Dysart and Sgt. and Mrs. Rigley.

Upon the recommendation of the commanding officer, Company B, 2nd Infantry, the following appointments have been made in that organization: Lance Cpl. James E. Flaherty, to be corporal, vice Ruebling, reduced; Lance Corporal Otis O. Biles, to be corporal, vice McLendon, red. ced.

NATIONAL GUARD NOTES

A military ball is to be given Saturday night at the armory by the 2nd Infantry band. Principal Musician Nicholas Novak has prepared a fine program. He has been in charge of the band in the absence of Chief Musician Jacobsen.

Assisting Cpl. Frank Bruey, who is chief executive of the affair, are the following officers:

ARMY NOTES

Two soldiers of Company M, 1st Infantry, H. Botwell and Roy J. Russell, who escaped from the Schofield Barracks guard house late Thursday night, were arrested Saturday night at Iwilei by the provost guard. They were turned over to the military authorities. Both men had escaped by sawing a hole in the floor and crawling out.

GERMANS SAY CENSUS WILL REVEAL LOSSES

LUGANO.—Telegrams from Basel state that Berlin despatches announce that the census of the German nation, which should be taken this year, has been indefinitely postponed, as it would reveal the total losses suffered in the war.

Army men at Fort Leavenworth, Kan., claimed a record in having sent a field wireless message 44 miles, using the army's newest apparatus.

The Constitutional Convention at Albany appointed Elihu Root to name a committee of seven men to have charge of the revision of the new constitution.

HONOR VICTIMS OF SUBMARINE ON COAST ARRIVAL

Bodies Raised From Hold and
Lowered to Dock With Appropriate Ceremonies

Further details of the arrival at San Francisco of the U. S. S. Supply, bearing the bodies of the F-1's dead, reached here yesterday by mail. The San Francisco Chronicle of September 21, in describing the Supply's arrival, says:

"As the Supply came to anchor near the naval vessels, off the exposition, a naval tug drew alongside, and the body of Machinist's Mate Ivan L. Mahan, which is to be interred at Mare Island, was lowered over the side. While the body was hoisted from the hold and swung over the side, the colors on the Supply were at half staff and all on board stood at 'attention.' 'Later, at the transport dock, the three other identified bodies, those of Gunner's Mate George T. Ashcroft, which is to go to Los Angeles; Machinist's Mate Charles A. Wells, which goes to Norfolk; Electrician Frank N. Herzog, which goes to Salt Lake, and the four coffins containing the unidentified 17 bodies, which are to be laid at rest in Arlington National Cemetery, were lowered to the dock with like ceremony."

The funerals of Ashcroft and Mahan were held the afternoon of that day at Mare Island naval station. Members of the Grand Army of the Republic and the Spanish War Veterans attended. Chaplain J. D. Macnair of the United States cruiser Maryland officiated.

Appeals on British Right.
Archibald has communicated his case to the state department asking also if it was within the rights of the British officials to seize his letters and to place him under arrest. Archibald's interview in Rotterdam is received skeptically here. One of the evening newspapers heads it "an innocent abroad."

One report from New York which was published here states that Dr. Dumba's explanation was satisfactory and that the incident is closed. Those familiar with the correspondence discovered are amazed, as they cannot see how a satisfactory explanation is possible.

POSTOFFICE NAMED IN HONOR OF DEBS

WASHINGTON, D. C.—A new postoffice has been established in Hinsdale county, Colo., and named Debs in honor of Eugene V. Debs, socialist leader. Bradford Thayer was appointed first postmaster.

Doctor Scudder declared that the war is akin to a great university which is educating millions of people. At the close of the war a new era will dawn, and today the world is on the eve of that new era, the pastor added. The new era will constitute recognition of the unity of the human race, the organic force being brotherhood and a union of nations and people in one world-wide state is the way out he declared.

Doctor Scudder's sermon last night was the first of a series of sermons on the war. The text was Acts 17:26 "He hath made of one blood all nations of men to dwell on all the face of the earth."

ARCHIBALD SAYS HE DIDN'T KNOW WHAT HE CARRIED

LONDON, Eng.—J. F. J. Archibald, the correspondent who was found to be carrying German and Austrian dispatches, today was deprived of his American passports by Henry Van Dyke, American minister to The Hague, on instructions from Washington. Archibald has sailed for America on the steamer Rotterdam.

It is evident that Washington considers that Archibald performed an unneutral service and is no longer entitled to the protection accorded to an ordinary American citizen.

Archibald presented his whole case to Van Dyke. He said he carried only, so far as he was aware, letters of introduction and personal communication which the officials had asked him to take. Some were open and some were sealed, but he said he was wholly
